ELKS' GATHERING IN PORTLAND FOR ANNUAL SESSION

GOLDFIELD MEMBER IS AFTER OFFICE OF GRAND ESTEEMED LEADING KNIGHT

PORTLAND, Ore., July 6.—The judiciary committee of the grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks made its third attempt, and the ritual committee its second attempt to get down to business today. The judiciary committee made a new attempt yesterday to get to work and the ritual committee began a session. Both, however, adjourned without transacting any business, owing to the numerous diversions attendant on the Fourth of July.

One of the most important questions before the ritual committee, it is learned, will be to consider the re-establishment of the goat as a part of the initiation ceremonies. "Riding the goat," at the behest of the city lodges, was abolished last year at the grand lodge convention at Atlantic City on the grounds of its lack of dignity. Some of the lodges in small cities and towns demand that it be re-established as a part of the ritual. These lodges declare that the change removed a diversion which in small places where amusements are not numerous, detracted materially from the social side of the order. Other changes will be discussed by the committee, but none other as radical in nature as the request for the re-establishment of the "goat."

Although it is two days until the grand lodge convenes, July 8, politics has injected itself into the pre-convention matters of interest. While Thomas B. Mills of Superior, Wis., is said to be almost certain of election as grand exalted ruler, there will be numerous contests for other offices. A surprising development today was the avowed candidacy of W. H. Wishar of Goldfield, Nev., for the office of esteemed loyal knight. Charles H. Ward of Pasadena was supposed to have no opposition.

The registration bureau opened yesterday and showed the presence in the city of over 2,000 Elks.

CUPID BUSY WITH BACHELORS AT WONDER

EDITOR ELLIS OF WONDER
NEWS LAMENTS LOSS OF MANY FRIENDS

Among those whose business is improving as time rolls on and bullion shipments steadily increase, is Mr. Cupid, the little fellow with too much bow and not enough toga to admit him to polite society, says the Wonder Mining News.

He has been shuffling around here of late, shooting here and there at whomsoever he met, and as a result of the saucy little cuss' activity no less than four of our most respected young bachelors have been stricken with serious heart trouble. Two of the victims, Harry Alley and Irvy Sanford, went out to Reno last week and took the cure, assisted by a minister, and as soon as the mechanics finish their work on a couple of cottages two more are slated to jump over the broomstick. Surely

CHILDREN SET FIRE TO FLOAT OF THE EAGLES

PLAYING AT HOUSE WHEN LIGHTED MATCH CAUSES
SMALL BLAZE

Small children playing about the handsome float used by the Eagles in the Fourth of July parade were responsible for a fire alarm being turned in during the noon hour today. The children must have been playing with matches for suddenly one of the tots ran breathlessly into the paint shop of F. N. Jones and exclaimed:

"Mister, your wagon is on fire." Jones was equal to the occasion, for bravely grabbing a broom he attacked the flames with his impromptu weapon and subdued the fierce conflagration before the arrival of the department. The bravery of Jones in taking his life in his hands, so as to speak, resulted in words of praise from the vast crowd that assembled on the scene. The damage was slight, although the float was completely destroyed.

TWENTY ROUND DRAW

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6.—Frank Mantell and Cyclone Johnny Thompson fought a 20-round draw here last night.

This is a great climate. This marrying and giving in marriage would be all right if it were not for the terrible wear and tear on the crop of oil cans and other musical instruments. It is an established rule to give each new couple a reception, and no partiality is shown.

INDIANS ARE WATCHED BY THOUSANDS AS THEY GIVE THE OLD TIME WAR DANCES

Copper Hued Denizens of the Desert
Participate in Dances of Five of the Old Tribes

Several thousand people packed Main street last evening to witness the Indian war dances which held the public attention for a space covering more than two hours. The Indian dancers, attired in fantastic attire, such as was worn by their forefathers, went through the various terpsichorean events in a manner that brought round after round of applause from the spectators.

To the ordinary tenderfoot, it was a difficult matter to distinguish the difference between the different tribal dances, but there was a difference at that. First came a war dance, then a scalp dance and that was followed by the different tribe dances. Between dances several bucks and squaws gave an exhibition of the Indian turkey trot, or at least that is what it resembled.

The Indian professional dancers gave the tribe dances of the Diggers, Round Valley, Shoshone and Putes, all of which were vastly different from the article as dished out by moving picture films. The latter sort was expected by the spectators, but when the old original dances were given, quite a surprise resulted. The warriors, urged on by the squaws, who were also dressed for the occasion, would dance back and forth across the square, their picturesque costumes appearing to advantage in the light of the bon fire that was built in the center of the street. Both bucks and squaws participating in the principal dances were decked out in war paint.

Big Chiefs Billy Douglas and Bob Prouty, who had charge of the warriors, kept their charges busy throughout the evening and whenever the dancers would tire of their exertions, the remaining Indians would be sent through the mazes of the old turkey trot.

During the evening, and while the Indian dances were in progress, the pyrotechnic display from the side of Mount Oddie was in progress. The entire side of the mountain was illuminated by the fireworks and numerous sky rockets, bombs, etc., were displayed during the early part of the night.

The celebration was brought to a close by a dance at the Miners' Exchange hall, given by the Fourth of July committee. The admission was free and needless to say the hall was crowded. The dancing was kept up until a late hour and was enjoyed by all.

The Tonopah military band and the Carson Indian band were in evidence throughout the evening and enlivened the occasion with stirring music. During the afternoon and morning the Tonopah school band was also in evidence.

GAMBLING INCREASED

CHICAGO, July 6.—The use of the automatic telephone by hand-book operators has greatly increased this form of gambling in Chicago, according to Assistant Chief of Police Schuetler. The difficulty of the police in locating these phones through listening on the wires is the reason for it.

The two latter places were given special mention.

The first prize was $25. The decorations at the Shop of Swell-don were exceedingly beautiful and were harmonious throughout.

ITY OF 100 STAMPS

The batteries will crush coarse and the remainder of the work will be carried out by the tube mills.

The new Belmont plant has been under course of construction for exactly a year, the grading for the foundation having started on July 5, 1911, and today it is regarded as one of the most modern plants of its kind in existence.

Superintendent Jones, who has been in charge of the mill at Millers, will assume charge of the new plant, and the majority of the mill-men from the old plant have been transferred to Tonopah to assist in the operations here.

URI B. CURTIS FORSAKES LIFE OF A BACHELOR

PIONEER OF SOUTHERN NE-VADA IS WEDDED TO LOS AN-GELES GIRL

Uri B. Curtis has taken unto himself one wife, the taking performance having been successfully carried out in Los Angeles on June 20. During his recent visit to Tonopah Curtis managed to keep the fact that he was soon to enter into holy bonds of double harness a profound secret—that is, he did not tell over 15 or 20 of his intimate friends, and Uri is intimate with everybody.

The bride, Miss Martha Florence Voiers, was one of the most popular young ladies of Los Angeles and it is in the southern city that the couple will reside. According to the belated wedding announcements that have been drifting into Tonopah for the past week, the couple will be at home at the Rampart apartments after July 15 and Uri invites all his southern Nevada friends to call and take dinner with him some day.
